Art Unit: 1711

1. Claims 2-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Applicants have provided enablement only for certain and specific features of the jet disperser being adjustable. Since the terminology, "adjustable jet disperser", encompasses degrees of adjustability not disclosed by applicants, the position is taken that the terminology lacks adequate enablement.

2. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Applicants have failed to adequately define what is meant by the "variable throughput" terminology.

3. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

It is not clear that the language, "can be opened and closed", accurately sets forth the characteristic of the bores or slots being adjustable or the function of the disperser. Further, the language, "can be", raises the issue of whether the "opened and closed" language is optional.

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 1711

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 2-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kahl et al. ('518).

Patentees disclose the production of an aqueous coating composition comprising a polyisocyanate and an isocyanate-reactive component, wherein the composition is produced by forcing the aqueous mixture through a jet disperser at a pressure of 1 to 30 MPa. See abstract. Furthermore, applicants' claimed features pertaining to the adjustability of the jet disperser, variable throughput, and the ability of the bores or slots to be opened and closed are all met by the disclosure at column 5, lines 12-30 and figure 6. Referring to figure 6, the manipulation of element 53 controls the opening and closing of the holes and, as a result, causes the jet disperser to be adjustable and to have variable throughput.
